

During the Seven Days of Last Week
THE WORLD PUBLISHED
RAIN

386 More
Help Wanted
Adverts.
Than All the Other
New York Newspapers
Combined.

THE EVENING
EDITION

NEW YORK, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1893.

THE WORLD

The World's UPTOWN
OFFICE,
1267 Broadway,
Near 21st St.
OPEN AT ALL HOUSES
EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR
RAIN

PRICE ONE CENT.

LAST EDITION ELLISON AT THE BAR.

The Trial of Broker Henriques's
Assailant Finally Opened.

Pale Mrs. Neame Supports Her Father into Court.

"Biff" Rides from the Tombs on the Black Maria's Front Seat.

Frank Ellison, known among those who have felt or feared his big fists as "Biff" Ellison, was brought down from the Tombs today to be tried before Recorder Smyth, in Part III of the Court of General Sessions for assaulting aged Broker William H. Henriques.

"Biff" Ellison at Bar.

Mr. Henriques, who has been confined to his home most of the time since the encounter with Ellison, came down to the brown-stone court house in a carriage. He was supported up the stairs to the District Attorney's office by his daughter, the charming Mrs. Leila Henriques Neame.

The judge, father and beautiful daughter found their way to the private room of Deputy Assistant District Attorney James W. Osborne, who had prepared an eloquent speech with which to open the trial of Ellison.

Mrs. Neame was pale, and her big eyes were an anxious expression, like those of a startled dove. She was clad all in black, which heightened her pallor.

Mr. Henriques, it has been said by Assistant District Attorney Francis L. W. Smith, will never be well again. He is in imminent danger of paralysis, in the opinion of his physicians.

Frank Ellison came to court by carriage. He rode on the front seat between Driver Cassidy, of the Black Maria, and a man in a top hat, to whom he was joined by glittering steel handclaws.

He was not accompanied by extra privileges, but was placed in the rear of a dozen dirty, ragged-looking fellows, of the cheapest type. He was, however, permitted to emerge for a minute and shake his head and shoulders.

Bertha Lewis, a petite beauty, who will be a witness in the trial, arrived in a carriage, and was escorted to the courtroom by a man in a top hat.

Arrived in the courtroom, Ellison was seated in a carriage, and was escorted to the courtroom by a man in a top hat.

Assistant District Attorney William conducts the prosecution.

BOMBS IN AUSTRIA'S CAPITAL. WALKED INTO A TRAP

Great Plot of Anarchists Revealed by Vienna Police.

Eighty-nine Arrests in Three Days —Excitement Among Officials.

VIENNA, Sept. 25.—The arrest of fourteen Anarchists here on Saturday, and the capture yesterday of sixty-eight members of a secret society at Brinnon, the capital of Moravia, has revealed the existence of a widespread Anarchistic plot.

To-day seven more members of the gang were taken into custody, and the plot against all the persons arrested is said to be overwhelming. All the persons arrested are known to be Anarchists of the worst kind.

Among the men arrested is a leading manufacturer of bombs, who lives in Prague, and an Anarchist named Stulka, who is well known to the police. Stulka is a skillful mechanic.

The police declare that the conspiracy they have unearthed is the most formidable plot the Anarchists have ever concocted in Vienna. Every one of the arrested has in his possession a bomb or cartridges that were ready for use.

The discovery has caused much excitement in official circles. It is believed, however, that the many arrests made have effectively put an end to the operations of the conspirators.

CAMPDOWN GOES AROUND.

Warship That Sank the Victoria
Has Trouble Off Valletta.

VALETTA, Malta, Sept. 25.—The British battleship Campdown, flagship of Rear-Admiral Markham, grounded this morning at the entrance to this harbor.

The ship, which was in the harbor for repairs, was struck by a wave of the sea, and was forced to beach itself. The ship is now in a dangerous position.

ARMED ITALIANS RIOT.

Nervy Officer Makes Arrests, but More Trouble Is Feared.

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., Sept. 25.—Word was received at Police Headquarters early this morning that the Italians employed at Corcoran Manor Park were again rioting because the money due them was not forthcoming.

AMERICAN CATHOLICS AT PEACE.

Advices That Are Said to Have Delighted the Vatican.

ROME, Sept. 25.—The representative in this city of the United Press learns from a most reliable source that the Vatican has received advice from the United States, showing that the dimensions among Catholics there have ceased, and that the groups who opposed Mr. Natoli have submitted to his authority.

SIXTY LIVES LOST.

The Russian Steamer Alphonse Zevecke Burned at Sea.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 25.—The North-western Pacific steamer last night brought word of the burning of the Russian steamer Alphonse Zevecke, with the loss of sixty lives.

WALKED INTO A TRAP

Two Would-Be Train-Robbers
Killed and Three Captured.

They Held Up a "Dummy" Train
Filled with Police Officers.

Fought Fiercely When Called Upon to Surrender.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 25.—The Kansas City, St. Jo. and Council Bluffs road failed an attempt to rob a passenger train at Francis, one and a half miles from this city, early this morning.

First Kohler and Hugo Engel, two of the robbers, were killed. Three others, named Charles Friedrichs, N. A. Hurst and William Garver, were captured.

When the train arrived here a dummy train was made up of sixteen police officers, under command of the Chief of Police, and was sent on ahead.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers. The robbers were taken into custody, and the train was filled with police officers.

NOT GOING TO THE MATINEE.

They are going to Washington to be appointed Ambassadors.

TWO DIED OF SMALL-POX. SHE HAS LEFT HER COUNT.

No New Cases Reported to the Board of Health To-Day.

A Philadelphia Belle Discovers the Emptiness of a Title.

The Agreement Will Be Given to Judge Newton To-Night.

Countess Appenheilm, Formerly Miss Wheeler, to Sue for Divorce.

Sportmen Believe There Will Be No Interference at the Fight.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 25.—Society in this city has been treated to a sensation by the announcement in The Times of the separation of Count and Countess Appenheilm.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

The Countess, who was formerly Miss Wheeler, is at present with her mother on the Isle of Wight. She will return to Philadelphia some time next month, and it is said that divorce proceedings will then be begun.

LAST EDITION BROCKWAY WEAKENS

Afraid to Stand Trial on Gross-man's Charges in This City.

Files His Answer and Asks for a Change of Venue.

Wants the State to Pay Damages if He Is Convicted.

Z. Reed Brockway, Superintendent of the Elmira Reformatory, against whom a writ for $25,000 damages has been brought by William Grossman, an assistant of Charles J. Clerke, filed an answer to-day through his attorneys, in which he asks that the case be tried at Elmira.

The plaintiff, through his attorneys, Friend & House, of the Puttler Building, has asked that Brockway be sequestered, who was an inmate, without justification and contrary to law, because padding and all corporal punishment in prisons has been abolished.

Brockway, in his answer, makes no specific denial, but claims that if the assaults took place they were committed by him as a matter of discipline while acting as Superintendent of the Reformatory, and in no other capacity, and he pleads the fact of his being Superintendent as a right to commit such assault.

He also, in mitigation of damages, if any should be awarded, seeks to place responsibility on the institution, and accordingly suggests that the State should pay all costs.

Mr. Brockway's request that the case be tried by some other than a New York court is looked upon by Attorney Grossman as evidence that he fears the result.

"I cannot get a change of venue," said Mr. Brockway, "because the Court has given the plaintiff leave to sue as a poor person, and all the officers of the court have been instructed to permit the suit to continue without costs. Of course, the State will not defray our expenses to Elmira, and there is no remedy for us."

He also attacked the President's position on the non-enforcement of the Anti-Slavery Laws. He said that the President had no authority to refuse to obey enactments.

He also attacked the President's position on the non-enforcement of the Anti-Slavery Laws. He said that the President had no authority to refuse to obey enactments.

He also attacked the President's position on the non-enforcement of the Anti-Slavery Laws. He said that the President had no authority to refuse to obey enactments.

He also attacked the President's position on the non-enforcement of the Anti-Slavery Laws. He said that the President had no authority to refuse to obey enactments.

He also attacked the President's position on the non-enforcement of the Anti-Slavery Laws. He said that the President had no authority to refuse to obey enactments.

He also attacked the President's position on the non-enforcement of the Anti-Slavery Laws. He said that the President had no authority to refuse to obey enactments.

He also attacked the President's position on the non-enforcement of the Anti-Slavery Laws. He said that the President had no authority to refuse to obey enactments.

PRICE ONE CENT.